City Seeks Community Input at Second Redevelopment Public Workshop

Possible Reorganization of City's Redevelopment Division Among Topics Discussed

SAN DIEGO – The City of San Diego is reaching out to communities to seek additional input regarding several options being studied for the possible reorganization of the City's Redevelopment Division. The community workshop will be held on Thursday, November 17th from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the Bayside Community Center located at 2202 Comstock Street, San Diego, CA 92111.

This is the second of two community workshops designed to gather public input and feedback regarding a number of reorganization options for the Redevelopment Division in an effort to make the Division more effective in revitalizing San Diego's urban neighborhoods.

Workshop attendees will discuss the possible reorganization options being reviewed, which include enhancing the existing structure of the City's Redevelopment Division, creating an independent City Agency and merging with the San Diego Housing Commission. For more information on these options as well as other supporting documents, visit the City's Web site at www.sandiego.gov/redevelopment-agency and click on the "public meeting announcement." The public meeting agenda will include:

- A presentation of the reorganization options being studied
- A review of the Redevelopment Project Areas potentially affected
- A brainstorming session to discuss ideas and concerns

The City's Redevelopment Division is one of three sections of the Redevelopment Agency of the City of San Diego. It is currently housed within the Community and Economic Development Department and manages 11 Redevelopment Project Areas throughout the City of San Diego as well as the administrative functions of the Agency.

For more information on the Redevelopment Community Workshop, contact the City of San Diego's Community and Economic Development Department at (619) 533-4233 or visit the City's Web site at www.sandiego.gov/redevelopment-agency.
